

ELCCT Volunteer of the Month Angel Blauvelt

“I started volunteering for ELCCT in June of 2017, and I’m very glad I did. I have always liked animals, reptiles in particular, but I don’t think I would have realized that I wanted to work with them if not for the opportunity at the Barnes Nature Center. I am in school for biotechnology but hope to soon go into wildlife biology. I volunteer at the Nature Center to care of the animals and help special events and also at the Indian Rock Nature Preserve during the summer with the Gardening for Good project. When I’m not volunteering, I hike, draw, write and take care of my cats.”

Thank you, Angel, for all of your help!
