

ELCCT Volunteer Spotlight Alaina Ehmer

My name is Alaina Ehmer and I am a sophomore at Wolcott High School. I began volunteering with ELCCT a little over two years ago and I am so happy I did. I have always loved animals and I love having the opportunity to work with them, I especially love working with the owls and the red-tailed hawk at the Barnes Nature Center. Throughout the year I assist with programs, birthday parties, and special events. During the summer, I volunteer at the Indian Rock Nature Preserve helping to care for for the farm animals. Throughout the year I volunteer at the Barnes Nature Center working with the reptiles and birds of prey. I have learned so much through volunteering here and I enjoy educating others on what I have learned, hoping they will love animals and nature as much as I do.

THANK YOU, ALAINA, FOR ALL OF YOUR HARD WORK!
